DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 9 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Van der Lans ( US 4.079,755).

Van der Lans discloses an inflatable pipe plug, specifically Sown in Fig 1, which comprises all of the claimed structure, including a metal cap or cover plate 13 adapted to cover one end of the pipe 20, an inflatable seal or plug 10 attached to the cover plate to mate the internal rim of the pipe and seal the end of the pipe when inflated with injected gas. It is also anticipated that the cover plate is removable when the inflatable seal is deflated. The claimed first aperture is met by the aperture located at air inlet fitting 16, and the use of valve to control or shut-off the air flow is anticipated as being a common engineering practice in the art.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3672

Claims 10, 11, and 13-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Van der Lans ( US 4,079,755) . The claimed second aperture and valve fails to constitute a patentable distinction over the prior art in that, it is simply a matter of design option as a matter of choice between using a single injection fitting or multiple injection fitting. The claimed safety clamp, or tethered collar as well as slack for securing the cover plate to the pipe is considered a matter of design option, since Van der Lans teaches the use of anchor and chain 17, 19 for manipulating the plug 10 inside the pipe, it would therefore be a obvious matter of designed choice to have modified Van der Lans' anchor with safety clamp or collar should there be a need to further secure the plug or seal to the pipe. The use of liquid as an inflating fluid is again considered a matter of operational option.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-8 are allowed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Beak, Sawyer, Petrone, and Coronado et al all show inflatable sealing means for tubulars.
